Explaining Tax Indexing

There's some hope for California taxpayers even though the present personal income tax bite makes many citizens feel betrayed and frustrated.

Coming on strong is a new taxing process called indexing.

Indexing is somewhat complex but we'll try to simplify it enough for you to decide whether or not it will help you if and when it becomes a part of the state income tax law.

It starts with a thing listed as CPI.

That's the Consumer Price Index which was established by the state to indicate how much more or less the consumer had to pay for goods and services. In readily understood language it is the cost-of-living index. The CPI was established in California in 1967 at 100 when a dollar would buy a dollar's worth of goods and services. This year, in March, 1977, the CPI was 176.6. That says it takes $176.60 to buy the same amount of goods and services in 1977 that $100 bought in 1967. That's up 76 per cent! That's inflation!

That part is easily understood by any householder who does the family shopping.

Another way to look at it is that a dollar today buys what 57 cents purchased in 1967.

Now, let's put that aside for a few minutes and look at state income taxes.

During the past 10 years California income tax has increased 299 per cent! That's 4 times as much as the CPI which is up 76 per cent! This year, according to President Carter, the inflation rate will be up 6.7 per cent. Using just 6 per cent as the factor let's look at two middle income families.

Both are married couples with two children and have an adjusted gross income of $16,000 this year. Assuming each takes standard deductions the current tax liability is $294.

One family gets an increase in income of 6 per cent. That family's tax liability then increases to $342 or 16 per cent!

The other family gets no increase at all. It gets no increase in taxes but it suffers a 6 per cent decline in purchasing power. That amounts to $960.

If the wage earner should get a 12 per cent increase in wages, his taxes would jump to $390, an increase of 33 per cent.

The taxpayer is suffering from big inflation and small concern of the government.

Now we come to a segment that may provide a cure for this disarrangement.

There is a proposal that tax brackets and deductions be inflated in ratio to dollars. If indexing had been started in 1967 and if a family's tax bite at that time was $1,000 today it would be $570. It would parallel taxes with inflation.

The failure of state government to accept inflation as part of the tax picture has resulted in an overtax — or surplus as they choose to call it — of $354 million. $155 million was personal income tax; $85 million sales tax and $50 million bank and corporation tax.

If anyone is concerned about the state budget surplus enough to wonder what happens to it, we'll give you the answer in a word. It is "spent!"

Just how malignant this tax process has become, look at these figures:

In the 10 years just past the California income tax has increased 299 per cent while total property taxes grew only 129 per cent, the sales tax 189 per cent and bank and corporation tax 182 per cent. Population increased only 11 per cent.

Let's not worry about the government. It will get a substantial profit from inflation without enacting new and unpopular tax legislation.

And if purchasing power is only meaningful in terms of the present, then the tax structure should also be made relevant in terms of the present. That process is called indexing.

These figures were made available through the offices of State Senator Dennis E. Carpenter who is the author of SD 34, a bill dealing with indexing. Now, 2 years later, it has surfaced with modifications as SB 111. It was approved by the Senate in June and sent to the Assembly. The Bill faces an uncertain future unless letters and telephone calls are received by state legislators.

Those who have been caught in the present tax crunch may want to express opinions. Call the office of this newspaper — 469-0101 — we'll give names and addresses of your lawmakers.

Age of Two-fers

Once the ambition was to have two cars in every garage and now we seem to be satisfied with two blades for every razor.

Sups Create Aid Group For Land Use Matters

If you need help preparing information about a land use matter requiring a hearing before a County decision-making body, call the County's Citizen Assistance Office at 236-2742 for help.

It is now a misdemeanor (under Administrative Code, Section 375) for County Supervisors, Planning Commissioners, the Zoning Adminstrator, and members of the Board of Planning and Zoning Appeals to discuss planning and zoning matters requiring public hearings with individuals prior to the hearing.

However the Board of Supervisors created the Office of Citizen Assistance to advise and assist opponents, proponents, or any other interested party in preparing information or evidence for presentation.

The County officials affected by the Code are required to disclose any unsolicited mail or any information they receive on a matter slated for public hearing. Any member of the various boards and commissions which are involved with the public hearing process for planning and zoning matters, who fail to disclose that they have received information on the subject other than at the actual hearing are subject to a $500 fine or six months in jail or both.

Exceptions to the law involve discussion of matters that will have broad application throughout the County, such a major General Plan proposals or proposed amendments to the Zoning Ordinance that would have a general effect throughout the unincorporated areas of the county.

The ordinance was enacted by the Board of Supervisors on Dec. 16, 1976.

Ascending Rate Plan Adopted by Otay Dist.

The drought and future energy shortages were the reasons cited by Otay Water District officials for enacting Monday night a new domenstic water rate scale which increases the average water bill in Spring Valley six per cent.

Under the new rates, which become effective August 1, households which use up to 10 units of water every two months will be charged 59 cents per unit. Households using between 11 and 50 units will be charged 62 cents per unit and households using more than 50 units of water will be charged 67 cents per unit. One unit of water is about 748 gallons.

The current water rate for the Otay District is a flat 56 cents per unit.

Chairman of the Otay Water District Board, Ralph Chapman said the reasons for the unanimous decision by the Board to enact the "ascending rate" scale was to educate users on conservation measures.

"In the past water was the same price regardless of quantity," said Chapman in an interview Tuesday. "Now during the current drought, the more you use the more you pay. It (the new rate scale) is our effort to save water and to educate the public on conserving water."

Otay Water District manager Glenn Reiter said the Metropolitan water district, chief source of Otay Water, upped their rates. Reiter said this was one of the reasons but added yet another.

"Our costs have increased some 300 per cent," Reiter said. "The next biggest expense outside of the drought is our electric bill."

The water district manager predicted by 1983, a date when many of the state's current electrity contracts terminate, many other water districts might have to accept the ascending rate scale pioneered by Otay.

Reiter said water companies may have to pay much higher rates for electricity after 1983 than they currently pay.

One Spring Valley resident faced the Otay Board Monday night to voice his opposition to the new rate scale saying they tended to penalize large families.

Richard Smith, a water customer, claimed the new rate structure should be based on the number of persons living in a household. This data, Smith contended, could be collected through census information.

The idea for the ascending scale was to penalize large estates and favor smaller households.

Kip Hayes Fund Trustees Ask Court to Take Control

A San Diego Superior Court has been petitioned to name trustees for the $75,000 Kip Hayes fund which was formed by volunteers through gifts and by special projects.

The request was made by three trustees who resigned earlier this month.

A hearing on the matter is set for August 26, at which time court controlled trustees may be named — perhaps the ones who resigned.

The trustees are Frank Shughrue, vice president of California 1st. Bank; Betty Schroeder, nursing education director of the El Cajon Valley Hospital, and Dr. Robert Pyle, principal of Mt. Miguel at the time of the Kip Hayes injury and who is now principal of Valhalla High school.

Kip Hayes, now 18, a member of the Mt. Miguel football team, was injured in November and his entire body except his neck and head is paralyzed.

The trustees resigned after Shughrue complained that Kip's mother, Mrs. Ruth Hayes, had harassed them. She is also said to have harassed a newspaper reporter following a story in the Evening Tribune and an attorney, James V. Dorman, who filed the petition for court appointed trustees through the law firm of Dorman and Dorman.

Neither the trustees nor the legal firm receive funds for their effort. "All of the contributions are for Kip's rehabilitation, certain insurance and expenses not covered by insurance," trustees said.

An attorney representing Mrs. Hayes had demanded some of the funds for her use.

When this request was declined, harassment began, it was said.

PacTel Overcharges Competitor Alleges

A competitor of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph (PACTEL) has accused the company of "predatory pricing" and "massive consumer overcharges" in an attempt to thwart a $119 million rate increase.

Ted Buttner, president of the California Interconnect Association, a maker of telephone equipment, said the phone giant was squeezing out its smaller competitors.

New Gas Rates Ignites Prices

LOS ANGELES — The California Public Utilities Commission has approved a plan by San Diego Gas and Electric company to raise the gas rates by an average 33 cents.

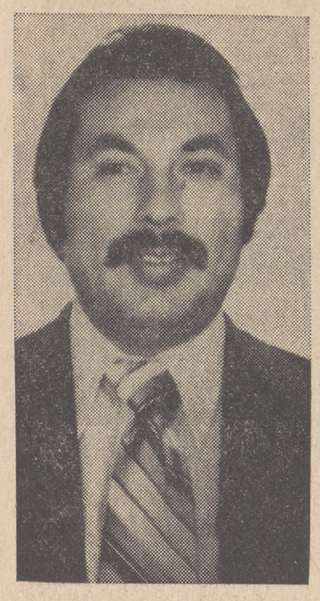

SDG&E is expected to collect an additional $4,690,000 from the increases.

According to Carole Kretzer, information officer for the PUC, the rate increases depicted a major revamping of the rate structures and the PUC also directed that these increases be dessiminated "so that consumers may understand and relate" to conservation oriented rates.

The rates granted for SDG&E are as follows:

|---|---|
| monthly customer charge | $1.35 per therm |
| 1st 26 therms (lifeline) | .1813 |
| next 54 therms | .225 |
| next 50 therms | .235 |
| next 70 therms | .245 |
| over 200 therms | .255 |

These rates become effective immediately.

Parking Banned For Big Trucks On County Streets

The San Diego County Board of Supervisors has adopted an ordinance prohibiting parking of commercial vehicles with a manufacturer's gross weight of over 10,000 pounds in residential unincorporated areas of the county. The law goes into effect July 21., 1977.

The ordinance does not apply to recreational vehicles, service, utility or construction vehicles which are working in the area, or to trucks that are loading or unloading. The ordinance also allows commercial and industrial firms with in a residential area to park vehicles on the street directly in front of the business property.

According to the ordinance a residential area is any unincorporated area of the county that has eight or more individual homes fronting on the street within a quarter mile. Exceptions to the new ordinance can be approved by the Board of Supervisors and will be designated with a sign or marking.

The ordinance was adopted by the Board as a result of requests to the County Traffic Advisory Committee to stop the parking of heavy vehicles on residential streets.

L.G. City is 'Joiner' —CPO, LAFCO, LoCC

Lemon Grove City Council having completed its emergency ordinances and resolutions, slipped into the doldrums Monday evening and the evening's business was completed in a little more than an hour.

One councilman said he feared to go home. "My wife won't believe the meeting was over this soon," he said.

Meetings in the future will be the first and third Mondays at 7:30 p.m. but will continue to be held in the L.G. Education Center.

Monday, the group adopted the resolution by which the City could borrow for 90 days up to $100,000 from the Crocker National Bank. Other resolutions made official the joining of (1) The Comprehensive Planning Organization (CPO); (2) The Local Agency Formation Commission's (LAFCO) Advisory Committee, and (3) The California League of Cities.

$100,000 will permit the city to meet all financial obligations and have funds left over when the first sales tax funds come to the city.

Lemon Grove becomes the 14th voting member of CPO 15 members. S.D. County does not vote.

Liaison Officer Tom Parks said applicants for city clerk and city manager are being screened. Closing screening date for manager will be August 22, he said.

Tax Officials Meet Public In Tuesday Confrontation

Citizens who are upset about rocketing property taxes will have an opportunity to confront local and state officials with questions at a public forum Tuesday at the Town & Country Hotel Convention Center, Mission Valley.

Arranged by S.D. area Boards of Realtors, the forum on property taxes will start at 7 p.m. The public is invited free of charge to participate in the discussions, George A. Jonilonis, president of the San Diego Board, said.

Panelists will include Wadie Deddeh, state assemblyman; E. C. Williams, county assessor; Mac Strobl, city councilman; George W. Smith, president of the S.D. Board of Education; James M. Harris, executive director of the S.D. Taxpayers Assn.; and Jack Walsh, former county supervisor.

"The format will be changed somewhat from our previous forums on housing," Jonilonis said. "We're going to take questions directly from the audience.

"The whole idea is to enable people to find out exactly what is happening in terms of property taxes and explore some solutions with representatives who can affect tax policy," he said.

Sales Tax Funds

More than $61.1 million was distributed to California cities and counties in the July distribution of local sales and use tax funds, Iris Sankey, Member, State Board of Equalilation, announced today.

In San Diego County these cities got these amounts:

|---|---|
| Carlsbad | $62,500 |
| Coronado | 17,500 |
| Imperial Beach | 12,000 |
| San Marcos | 25,000 |
| Vista | 42,500 |
| La Mesa | 125,000 |

Lemon Grove will receive sales tax funds in January.

What is a City?

TORT LIABILITY. Years ago the Supreme Court discarded the concept of sovereign immunity. Now, a city is like any other firm or corporation and has (except for a few remaining specific immunities) the same liability for the negligent acts of its employees.

ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT. State law now requires the city to conduct an environmental study (E.I.R.) before undertaking any public project. Failure to prepare an adequate E.I.R. or failure to properly consider the same may invalidate the proposal.

Limitations on Personal Activities

INCOMPATIBILITY. No public officer may occupy two different public offices at the same time, if the same are incompatible one with the other; that is it would be impossible for a council member to serve also as city manager, city treasurer or any other such position.

USE OF PUBLIC PROPERTY. No public officer may use any public property or equipment or facilities for a personal or private purpose. The law books are replete with cases where individual public officers have been reprimanded, fined or even imprisoned for use of public property for private purposes whether the same constitutes the use of a city car, or use of city sationery.

BINDING FUTURE COUNCILS. It is a basic rule of municipal law, that one city council cannot forever tie the hands of future city councils with respect to legislative enactments; no ordinance pased by one city council may remain beyond the repeal or amendment of a future city council. Each city council is elected by the people to serve the needs and desires of the people at that time, and cannot be restricted, from a legislative standpoint, by prior council action. A council may, however, enter into certain long-term contracts such as leases and rubbish contracts.

Reserved Rights

RECALL. The people have retained the right to recall any elected representative not fulfilling their desires. Naturally, the processes of recall are somewhat difficult, in that public officers, once elected, should not be promiscuously recalled; but at any time the electors by a 25 percent petition determine to oust any public officer, a recall election must be held.

REFERENDUM. The right of referendum is one of the most important rights reserved to the individual electors. This is the right that guarantees that at any time more than 10 percent of the electors do no approve of a (non-urgent) legislative regulation, that 10 percent, by filing a petition with 30 days, may demand that the proposed regulation (if not of statewide concern or a case where the city is acting as agent for the state) be submitted to the electorate for a majority vote of approval or disapproval.

INITIATIVE. This is the reciprocal of referendum, and is the vehicle by which the electors can be 10 percent petition force an election to pass a law which the city council has for one reason or another refused to do.

Walk on for M.D. From N.Y. to S.D.

Two San Diegans will attempt to walk from New York City to San Diego — 3,105 miles — for the benefit of the Muscular Dystrophy Assn.

John Cushman, 22, and Keith Glenn, 21, both of Del Cerro, departed from New York this week under the sponsorship of San Diego county 7-11 stores in hopes of arrived in San Diego 50 days later, just in time to appear on the local broadcast of the annual Jerry Lewis Labor Day telethon for MDA on September 4. The current cross-country mark in the Guiness Book of World Records is 53 days. They will have to average more than 62 miles each day if they are to succeed.

Th two have been signing up sponsors to donate money to MDA for each mile completed. A sponsor pledging one penny a mile would give $31.05 if they complete the trek. More than $2,000 in pledges have already been made, according to The Southland Corp. and its 7-11 stores. Sponsor sheets will be available at 7-11 stores through Labor Day.

Last year, the stores helped raise $3.1 million for the fight against muscular dystrophy. The 1977 goal is $4 million, including $225,000 in San Diego County.

There's An Answer

by Mrs. and Mrs. Norman Vincent Peale

No Beer in Heaven

Q. I have a problem with my husband.

We have been married for 16 years. I belong to a church and try to do the right thing, but my husband doesn't seem to care.

He drinks an awful lot and stays out all hours of the night.

He tells me he drinks so much because his father passed away. I get awfully depressed and nervous because I don't understand this. Can you please give me some information on what to do?

A. Perhaps it would help if you were to get some information on the subject of obsessive drinking. Grief can lead some people to turn to alcohol for for forgetfulness and relief.

But such a course can result in trouble that is much greater than acute sorrow. Since you do not understand your husband's reactions, we suggest that you do more than simply be depressed and nervous. Take the effective course of getting scientific help for yourself.

You might write to the Al-Anon Family Group headquarters, P.O. Box 182, Madison Square Station, New York, NY 10010, if you can find no agency in your area.

Woman's Liberation

Q. I'm not depressed or lonely but I still have problems. Most financial.

I'm 35 years old, divorced, have two children and plenty to keep me busy.

My former husband pays little support and doesn't even meet that.

I had a good job, but they wouldn't pay me equal to the men doing the same work. They all hounded me to make my ex-husband pay.

Finally, demanding I go to bed with him, and after months of my refusal, my boss fired me.

Even my lawyer keeps saying, "Find a man to support you." But you just can't walk out and pick one up off the street.

I don't want another bad marriage. It's hard for me to understand men's position on paying women. I have to pay the bills the same as a man, but how can I when I'm not allowed to earn it?

A. If all the statements you recite are factual, although we are no lawyers, it would appear that you have a legal case against your employer.

Under the law, as we understand it, the fact that you are a woman does not permit him to pay you on a scale less than that of a man doing the same work. Furthermore, it is not your employer's business to "hound" you to make your ex-husband pay the difference between what you make and what he should pay you. Nor has he any right to demand that you act immorally. And we certainly would not take a lawyer's superficial advice to find a man to support you. ....

Consult your state employment office on your legal employment rights.

Perhaps you would like to find an answer for yourself to a problem that you can share with others in THERE'S AN ANSWER! If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in this column, write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

Auto Club Books On Safety Offered

The Automobile Club of California have stepped up their campaign to reduce pedestrian fatalities by offering instructional packets to preschool-age children.

The packets contain information about the dangers of residential traffic and tips on safe pedestrian habits.

According to a spokesman for the Auto Club, the idea for the packet of information was to reduce the killing of preschool children. Some 8.2 percent of the fatalities and 10.3 percent of the injuries in pedestrian-type traffic incidents involve very young children.

The most common accident involving these children occurs within two blocks of their home. The children are usually attempting to cross a two-lane residential street without the aid of adult supervision.

The typical incident involves a car traveling at 30 miles per hour or less and a child who darts into the roadway without looking for oncoming cars.

The four booklets offered by the Auto Club are written to children 2 to 6 years old and are available for 50 cents at the club's office in El Cajon, 442-8861.

Ocean Landscape Is Talk Topic

Dr. William Dickinson, one of the world's leading researchers in plate techtonics, (the construction of the earth's continents), will speak in San Diego on "The Submarine Landscape" Tuesday, July 26.

He will talk about the ocean's history as revealed by the varied shapes and composition of the ocean's bottom; which tell of the constant tearing apart and slamming together the continents must endure.

Stull Wins Post On Education Steering Group

Senator John Stull (R-38th District has been elected to the 47-member Steering Committee of the Education Commission of the States.

Composed of one representative from each member state, the Steering Committee functions as board of directors for the Commission.

Originally appointed as one of California's seven commission members in 1975 by the Senate Rules Committee, Stull now assumes the role as primary contact for all exchanges between California and the Commission.

"It was an honor to be named to the Commission in the first place," Stull said, "but it is an even greater honor to be named to the policy-making Steering Committee. California is a leader in the field of education, and yet we can learn much from the experiences of other states.

"Serving on this Commission allows me to gain valuable insights into educational policies, and to share California's innovations with others."

Stull serves on the Senate Education Committee and is the author of several significant California school laws, including the so-called Stull Act (revision of tenure laws and requiring regular evaluation of educators) and school record privacy laws.

Stamp Out Crime Award Given

The Stamp Out Crime Crusade Monday heard Assemblyman Jim Ellis tell members that there is hope for stronger anti-crime legislation not only in California but elsewhere in the nation.

Citizens, such as those who are members of the Stamp Out Crime Crusade are becoming more vocative he said.

The death penalty, he said, has not been tested in the Supreme Court but it is certain to be and may be rejected.

AB85 replaces death with life imprisonment without hope of parole. It would prevent death penalty criminals from being released as it now the case.

During the luncheon meeting at th Imperial House, SOCC president Barbara McCarthy awarded certificates to 7-year old Michele Stern who tipped police where a purse snatcher had taken refuge, and to La Mesa Police Officer R. J. "Bob" Beardsley for 8 years of outstanding police service. In charge of the program was Yvonne Grantham, vice president.

USDA Pamphlet Said $$ Saver

A new pamphlet from the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) written especially for families on very limited budgets, tells how much food you need to buy to feed a family of four, and gives you shopping tips, suggested menus, and recipes for a month. "Food For Thrifty Families" can be ordered free, by sending a postcard to the Consumer Information Center, Department 663E, Pueblo, CO 81009.

Using last winter's prices, the Center estimates the cost of foods required to feed a couple with 2 preschool children would be about $32 a week if the low-cost meal plan is followed. If the children are elementary school age, the cost would be about $39.

A family of eight, with three elementary school children, two teenage boys and a teenage girl, would require about $70 a week, under the lost-cost food plan. These estimates assume that families buy all their food and prepare it at home.

Some of the recipes recommended in the booklet include: baked picnic pork shoulder, chili with beans and macaroni, and fried chicken.

"Food For Thrifty Families" is one of more than 200 federal publications of consumer interest listed in the free Consumer Information Catalog published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration. For a free copy of the Catalog, send a postcard to the Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Assemblyman Sponsors Bill

Midwifery Seen as Way To Cut Costs of Birth

by Fred Ash

Legislation is on the back burner in the California Assembly allowing trained and licensed midwives to go into homes to deliver babies.

Assemblyman Gary K. Hart (D-Santa Barbara) has introduced the measure, AB 1896, which would license the practice of midwifery in California but limit it to those cases without complications.

Michael Krisman, Deputy Director of the Consumer Affairs Department and one of the authors of the bill, cited several reasons for the legislation.

Among the reasons cited by Krisman were:

—90% of the births do not have complications,

—a lack of qualified obstetricians to meet demand,

—the high cost of hospital births,

—the desire of mothers to have a choice on how they were going to have their babies,

—and the savings to the state's Medi-Cal bank account by legalizing the practice.

Lack of Obstetricians

Krisman said by 1990 there will be a severe shortage of trained OB doctors necessitating the move toward midwifery.

"400,000 to 500,000 women in California will need maternity care on the average annually over the next decade," Krisman said, "while the number of obstetricians will not meet this demand, given their distribution across both urban and rural area of our state, California maternity care consumers have demonstrated an increasing interest in childbirth procedures apart from the obstetrician/hospital model."

Krisman said new theories about natural childbirth, coupled with consumer dissatisfaction with hospital practice and increasing expense of hospital birth has resulted in a steady rising percentage of births delivered by lay midwives.

Hospital Cost

Grossmont Hospital Comptroller Doug Conklin said average cost for having a baby at Grossmont was $757. That figure does not include recent hospital rate increases effective July 1 or the doctor's fee.

Conklin also said the delivery room charge alone costs between $198 to $225 per birth. The average length of stay in hospital room was about 2.5 days.

Conklin said last month the hospital took in some $32,266 just from its maternity department.

Midwifery Costs

According to data collected by Consumer Affairs Deputy Director Krisman, the charge for births done by midwives would be consideraly less.

"In contrast to this expensive obstetrical/hospital approach," said Krisman, "the anticipated costs of a midwife range from $250 to $400, providing potential savings of up to 50 percent on maternal care costs for many consumers and potential annual savings to the state's Medi-Cal program of over $10 million."

At Grossmont, Comptroller Conklin said maternity is 10 percent of the overall hospital budget, 35.5 percent of the births at Grossmont were covered by the Medi-Cal Program, and during June the hospital took in almost $11,500 from the program.

One Existing Program

Midwifery is not new to San Diego County. At least one area hospital uses the practice regularly.

According to Vanda Lops, the co-director of a pilot program at University Hospital which allows registered nurses to perform some of the duties doctors formerly did, said the program was not open to lay-persons.

"In 1974 the legislature made the practice of midwifery legal within the hospitals," said Lops who also teaches the practice at the University of California San Diego, "our program is open only to registered nurses who provide a family type of care."

Lops said of the class she teaches at UCSD along with program co-director Dr. William Schwartz, only registered nurses were allowed into it and the midwives used at University Hospital aided the doctors only.

The cost for a birth at University Hospital is comparable to Grossmont, $700 to $750, and the midwife care is included in the "birth package of services".

On the issue of allowing home births via midwives, the UCSD teacher and practioner was skeptical.

"To say a lay person can make home deliveries in this country as they do in Europe without the emergency backup assistance is hoping for more than what is possible," said Lops. "I don't believe there is anywhere in the country with a back-up system comparable to Europe."

Lops explained the system used in Europe allows midwifery only because there is a highly trained ambulance crew not more than 10 minutes away capable of handling any emergencies that arise.

"In the San Diego area," she continued, "we don't have that."

The California Assembly is expected to examine the midwifery bill when it resumes work in August.

This Week's RECIPE

Chicken and Garlic Stew

To speak to the emperor of ancient China, one had to keep a clove in the mouth ironically to sweeten the breath. The Chinese so adored clove garlic, they were ordered to sweeten their breath with it before addressing the royalty.

Many centuries later William Shakespeare had a different idea when he wrote: "Eat no onions nor garlic, for we are to utter sweet breath".

Chicken and Garlic Stew uses a large amount of garlic because the herb is not chopped.

CHICKEN AND GARLIC STEW

- 45-60 whole garlic cloves, peeled
- 6 ten ounce skinned chicken quarters (leg and thigh portion)
- ½ cup freshly chopped parsley
- ½ cup diced celery
- 1 teaspoon tarragon
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon white pepper
- ½ teaspoon allspice
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- 1½ cups water
- 1½ cups sherry extract (optional)
- 3 cups cooked enriched rice or enriched broad noodles

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Arrange 1/3 of the garlic across bottom of a 5-quart Dutch oven or heavy ovenproof pot with cover. Cut legs from thighs to make two pieces. Place chicken thighs over garlic, then layer another 1/3 of the garlic over chicken; add ½ of the remaining ingredients, except garlic, water, extract, rice or noodles. Cover with chicken legs.

Add remaining 1/3 of the garlic, seasonings, water and extract. Cover pot and bake for 1½ hours or until chicken is cooked throughout. The chicken will not brown, but will be moist.

Divide chicken and sauce evenly and serve over ½ cup hot rice or noodles. Makes six servings, 1 thigh and 1 leg for each serving.

Chacon Wins– But Has to Fight

They introduced Assemblyman Peter Chacon (D-Lemon Grove-Spring Valley) from his 2nd row seat in the ringside area.

As uncle of the featured boxer in the 10-round main event at the S.D. Coliseum Friday, he had earned the applause fans gave him.

There were L.A. sports writers and local tv cameras, along with a cluster of local sports writers.

They, and approximately 3,000 fans, had come to see former world featherweight champion, Bobby Chacon, of San Fernando take another step on his tour to another championship. He was fighting as a lightweight (133½ lbs.) and his opponent was Alejandro Lopez, (134 1/4), the reigning lightweight champion of Baja California.

During the first few rounds Chacon peppered Lopez with jabs and crosses but Lopez kept the pressure on until he forced Chacon into a slugfest. Lopez was a better slugger until his head was popped back by several overhand rights.

Lopez appeared to be out on his feet as the 7th round neared the end, but the bell saved him to no avail.

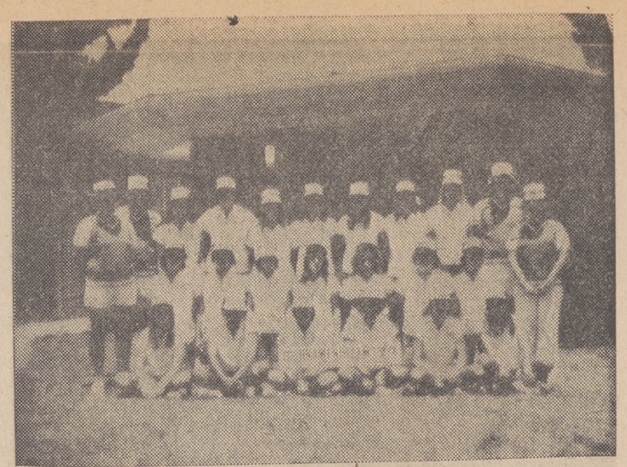

Lopez (74-12) gave a good account of himself in 4 of the 7 rounds he lasted. He could not respond for the 8th. Chacon (36-3) was troubled only in the 6th round when Lopez rocked him with combinations. He brought the fight to Chacon and made Chacon fight to win.

Middleweight Marv Saunders, Riverside, won a unanimous decision over Lennie Vanessi. Tonga, in a 6-rounder. Vanessi came back strongly in the final round but he started too late.

Irish Spud Murphy, a S.D. featherweight brawler, made it 2-1 by hammering out a unanimous decision over Mauricio Garcia, El Salvador in 4 rounds. Leighweight Hedgemon Robinson, a protege of Hedgemon Lewis, scored a 1st round KO over Arturo Reyes of National City. Lewis, who was rated no. 2 welterweight through the early 70's, was in attendance.

$100,000 Handicap Draws 'Horse of the Year'

While preparations are being made for the opening of Del Mar Race Track, officials are busily arranging competitors for the season's events.

Scheduled to go in the $100,000 Del Mar Handicap September 5 is Mrs. Connie Ring's Crystal Water, the strong western threat to the 3-year reign of the great Forego as the country's top handicap performer and Horse of the Year.

Trainer Roger Clapp, has developed the 4-year-old California-bred son of Windy Sands into perhaps the finest handicap star to race in this state since 1971 Horse-of-the-Year Ack Ack.

As California's current Horse of the Year, Crystal Water has reeled off 4 consecutive wins since his conditioners added blinkers to his regular equipment late in February.

Those wins include a world's record-equalling clocking of 1:45 2/5 for a mile and one-eighth over Santa Anita's grass course, a track record-breaking time of 1:59 1/5 for a mile and one-quarter on the dirt in the rich Santa Anita Handicap, a narrow decision over Mark's Place in the Californian Stakes in his seasonal Hollywood Park debut and the Gold Cup score, his fourth career hundred-grander, over the outstanding distaffer Cascapedia under 129 pounds.

Now Crystal Water has an opportunity to score an unprecedented sweep of the major handicap events at each of the S. Calif. tracks, having already duplicated Ack Ack's Big 'Cap-Gold Cup "double."

Mets, Phillies, Expos Here To Close Padres Homestand

Mets, Phillies 3-2-36

The surging Philadelphia Phillies will top a three-team parade into San Diego as the San Diego Padres put on a 9-game homestand closing out the activity in San Diego Stadium for the month of July.

The Phillies, in the midst of making a serious challenge for their second straight National League Eastern Division championship, will actually be the second of the three clubs to visit San Diego, but that series looms as the key field attraction for the fans.

But, let's get first things first.

Opening up the homestand tonight will be the New York Mets under new manager Joe Torre. A player for the Mets until he was named in midseason to replace Joe Frazier, Torre more than has his work cut out for him to bring his club out of the Eastern Division cellar.

The Padres and Mets will clash in single games tonight, Friday and Saturday. The first two contests will get underway at the usual time of 7 p.m., but the Saturday series finale has been set back to 8:15 p.m.

Old Timers Game

The reason is that Saturday is the Padres annual Old-Timers Game with this season's affair pitting the old Brooklyn Dodgers of the 1950's against their counterparts from that same era of the New York Giants. The Old-Timers contest is scheduled for a 7 p.m. start.

Then, it's the short two-game series with the Phillies on Sunday and Monday, with the Sunday opener set for 1 p.m. and the getaway game a day later will go at 7 p.m.

Lastly, the Padres will be entertaining the Montreal Expos for four games in three days from Tuesday to Thursday, July 26-28. Originally the schedule called for Single games on Tuesday and Wednesday, but a rainout of a doubleheader between the two clubs back on May 8 forced a change of plans.

The way the schedule stacks up now, the Padres and Expos will meet in a 6 p.m. doubleheader on Tuesday to kick things off and then follow that up with a single 7 p.m. game on Wednesday and a 1 p.m. Business Special on Thursday (originally an open date for both teams on the calendar).

Apart from the Old-Timers affair, there will be two other top promotions for the fans during the final visit of the season to San Diego by the three clubs. On Friday night, the Padres will stage Dow Sound City T-Shirt Night with free Padre-T-Shirts going to the first 25,000 youngsters 14 years of age and under compliments of the area Dow Sound City stores.

On Sunday it will be the second of three Home Federal Print days with free full color action prints of Padre All-Star Dave Winfield being given away by Home Federal to the first 20,000 fans at the game.

3-Year-Olds Go at Los Alamitos Friday

LOS ALAMITOS — Two of the west coast's quickest 3-year-olds, Shadow Moon Walk and Truly Terriffic, collide this Friday at Los Alamitos in the 14th running of the Vandy's Flash Stakes at 350 yards with the $115,000 Kindergarten at 400 yards following on Saturday for the summer's 2-year-old championship.

The $115,000 Kindergarten is expected to be a contest among Town Policy, Lantys Easy Jet and Easy Della Jet, three 2-year-olds who have swept the summer stakes events for first year runners. Unbeaten Town Policy recorded a 17.71 for the best time at 350 yards by a 2-year-old this season when he won the Bardella Stakes June 17.

Easy Della Jet just missed that mark when she ran 17.72 to add the Las Ninas title to her accomplishments. Lantys Easy Jet, a finalist in the Bay Meadows Futurity, has swept to victories in the Jet Deck and Los Ninos Stakes in the rapid times of 17.88 and 17.86 respectively.

Other 2-year-olds expected to qualify to the Kindergarten are Aqualina, Queena, Moon Glow, Roman Reb, Talk Back, Hold On Ima Coming and Thors Diamond. Kingdom Key, Pass The Jug and Maggie's Fleet, the top three finishers in the Bay Meadows Futurity this spring, would also be challengers with a return to their early season form.

Hollypark Closes Season on Mon.

The 38th season of thoroughbred racing at Hollywood Park comes to a close Monday but not before the Inglewood track stages a "hundred-grander" tripleheader, a $26,000 Sunday Sweep giveaway, a free general admission day, and an afternoon when all general parking will be free.

Hollywood Park management, in saying thanks to the fans who have made this season one of the most successful in the track's history, will offer free general admission, a savings of $2.25, Saturday when the featured attraction will be the estimated $150,000 Hollywood Juvenile Championship. Additionally, Club House admission, normally $4.25, will be reduced to $2 on Juvenile Championship day.

J. O. Tobin, conqueror of Seattle Slew in the recent Swaps Stakes, is expected to make his next start Sunday

Sharing the spotlight with the Cinema Handicap will be Sunday Sweep, in which the person or persons selecting the most consecutive winners on a free, official entry blank, will win or share the entire bonus jackpot of $26,000.

And on Monday, when the traditional closing-day feature, the $150,000 Sunset Handicap, brings together the finest turf marathoners in the nation, Hollywood Park will eliminate the $1 general parking charge.

Chris Evert Leads Phoenix Against Friars Friday Night

When Chris Evert arrives Friday night at the S.D. Sports Arena, there will be more at stake for the Friars than a match against the world's leading female player.

San Diego suddenly is a formidable contender for a World Team Tennis division title and this skirmish starting at 7:30 p.m. could very well settle such consideration.

"Sure it's a match for the title, Phoenix is on top and we're right behind," said coach Cliff Drysdale.

The Friars, it would appear, are gaining while Phoenix is less than solid. Momentum may be a factor and San Diego is accelerating.

The improvement has been team-wide: a you-wouldn't-believe-it-unless-you-see-it competitiveness of Mona Guerrant and Kerry Reid in women's doubles, a solid contribution in both doubles and mixed by Drysdale, Reid's brilliant home record (8-4) in singles, the availability of Dianna Fromholtz and Rod Laver's all-around brilliance.

Laver Excels in Arena

Laver won 16 of his first 22 singles matches and eight of ten in the Sports Arena. But one of the losses was a 6-7 setback to young Butch Walts when Phoenix last visited May 7, the team taking a 27-24 decision that later was reversed by the Friars, 29-27, in Arizona.

Evert maintains her dominance but the loss of doubles partner Kristien Shaw, sidelined for the season with a back injury, is no benefit to the team's chances. Shaw has been replaced by Janet Newberry, a La Jolla resident of considerable talent and much charm.

Evert missed the All-Star game because of the flu. She won 18 of her first 23 singles matches, taking 126-210 games played. She and Shaw ranked third in the league in doubles.

Fans attending Friday night's match will be doubly-blessed. Every person will receive a certificate worth $6 toward the purchase of a pair of Converse tennis shoes. And the first 1,000 fans will be given a Chris Evert color poster.

The Friars close out their July home schedule next week when they entertain Seaport, Tuesday night, July 26.

Excellent seats are still available for Chris Evert and Phoenix Friday night and may be purchased at the Sports Arena box office which is open daily. Parking is free.

USC Golf Team Captain Named HOC's June Star

Exceptional performances in golf and track have earned June Star of the Month honors for 8 athletes from the San Diego area.

Heading the lineup receiving recognition from the Hall of Champions Board of Trustees is Scott Simpson, the Madison High graduate who, as captain of the USC golf team, won his second straight NCAA links title over the rugged Colgate course in Hamilton, N.Y.

Simpson came from behind in the final 18 holes to retain his championship with a one-over-par 289 and join such other repeat winners as Dick Crawford and Ben Crenshaw.

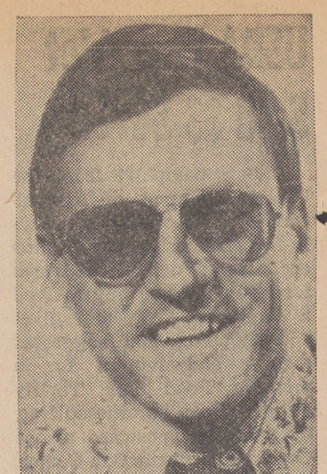

Patrick Henry's David Russell was singled out for winning the 100 and 220-yard dashes in the State CIF track and field championships, the first San Diegan to sweep those events since the late Jimmy Wilson turned the trick back in 1929.

In the same meet Dokie Williams of El Camino High captured the triple jump with a mark of 51 feet, ½ inch, thus breaking the record held by former Oceansider Willie Banks. Williams' effort was the best in the nation this year.

Also honored was the Crawford High girls' 440-yard relay team which set a national record of :46.6 while winning the San Diego CIF title, and the quartet of Danita Young, Judy Reed, Jewell Loveday and Katie Gaston subsequently bettered that time with a :46.14 clocking in the California CIF finals.

Rounding out the Star of the Month list was Arnie Robinson, Morse High and San Diego State graduate, who became the world's first long jumper to surpass 27 feet in 1977 by leaping 27 feet, ½ inch and capturing his 5th National AAU championship. Winner of the Olympic long jump at Montreal, Robinson was San Diego's Star of the Year in 1976.

Jim Dietz Named Decade's Best Baseball Coach

Jim Dietz, baseball coach at S.D. State U. for the past six seasons, has been honored as the Manager of the Decade by the National Baseball Congress.

Dietz, who manages during the summer for the Alaska Goldpanners in Fairbanks, was honored by the NBC for winning four national titles and having two runner-up teams in six years as manager of the Goldpanners.

The NBC decided to honor Dietz prior to the turn of the decade because no other coach in the nation could equal his record before the end of the 1979 season.

Dietz has compiled a 305-125 record in six years as head man for the 'Panners, winning national titles in 1976, 1974, 1973 and 1972. He is the only coach in the history of the NBC to win three straight titles. Dietz' Goldpanners were national runners-up in 1975 and 1971.

Some of the players who have performed for Dietz over the past six seasons in Alaska are Steve Kemp (Tigers), Dave Winfield (Padres), Dave Roberts (Padres), Jim Umbarger (Rangers), Floyd Bannister (Astros), Pete Redfern (Twins), Jim Sunberg (Rangers), Steve Swisher (Cubs) and Jackson Todd (Mets).

In six seasons at San Diego State, Dietz has compiled a 200-144 record.

March of Dimes Night Saturday At Cajon Track

If drivers can top the finish in last week's 40-lap main event when Mike Hagerman powered out of the final turn to take the victory away from Ralph Dineen, there may be a lot of hearts fluttering in the stands Saturday night at the 3/8-mile paved Gillespie Field racing plant.

Race time is 8 p.m. with the traditional 4-lap trophy dash for the four fastest qualifiers kicking off the racing program. A field of more than fifty super stocks will also do battle in a four 8-lap heat race, a 10-lap consolation race, a 20-lap semi, before taking the green for the 40-lap feature.

The fastest twenty cars of the evening plus the top two finishers from the semi will start the feature.

By virtue of his narrow victory last week Hagerman, an El Cajon businessman, was able to whittle fifty points off the lead of point standings leader Pat McIntyre and now trails the Spring Valley contractor by 435 in the race for the 1977 crown. This is Hagerman's first championship points fight in five years while McIntyre is shooting for his fifth title in six years.

Saturday night will also be March of Dimes Night at the speedway and Poster child Jody Collins will be on hand also. Jody, the 4-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Collins of La Mesa, suffers from spina bifida. Funds will go toward birth defects research, education and treatment at the Salk Institute, UCSD, Children's Hospital and University Hospital.

Garage Sale Disallowed

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

The All-Star Break is past and serious baseball people now start to talk about either, (1) how they are going to win the pennant, or (2) what they need in trades over the winter to make them contenders next year.

The San Diego Padres are not seriously considering proposition number 1. Three days out of Spring Training they went right to proposition two.

But things went from bad to even badder and now those close to the throne hedge about next year and speak of the semester after that. All the way to 1979. And with 74-year-old Ray Kroc calling the shots and wanting a winner, that's a far piece away.

It's Alvin Dark's ball game, now. But if he wants to continue luggin' the leather, he'd best be advised that time's-a-wasting. The owner would like to order his World Series tickets for next year from his own ticket vault. Or, at least, have a chance to try.

And that leaves things pretty much up to Dark. He is calling all the playing shots. He decides what goes and doesn't go, both on and off the field.

If you see the players show up in ties and jackets, you better figure the order came from Dark. If their hair is cut or if mustaches are worn, it was with his OK.

All that is small potatoes, to be sure, but the idea gets across. Dark is in command. And like any general, he has to inspect his troops, learn what they can do and what his attack and defensive forces must have to insure success.

As simple a reason as that might not sit well with some folks. They see all kinds of problems in what is unfolding on the field as the Padres go up against the rest of the National League.

"We should have played Tenace," one hears at the peanut stand, or "Ivie should at least try to catch."

Move down to the beer counter and you're liable to hear, "We've got too many left fielders," or "What we need is a power-hitting, high average left-handed batter."

And most of the talk has some truth to it. The Padres do have a surplus of players in some positions. And they are critically short of talent in other spots.

It is just that problem Alvin Dark is facing. And, in his own way, he is attempting to see how much of what the Padres have, where.

"We'll have to make some trades over the winter," he admints. "But right now, we don't know who will bring us what we need. Who will be the most marketable."

He finds joy in facing the problem. Mostly it isn't a case of "who can play there," it's more of, "which one is best there."

"You have to keep a bat like (Dave) Kingman in the lineup," Alvin reasons aloud, "but you can't keep a youngster like (Gene) Richards on the bench. He needs playing time, too."

And that's without adding Jerry Turner, who also needs playing time.

Gene Tenace is bewildered when he is left out of the lineup, but Dave Roberts and Bob Davis must be measured on the Dark Scale. The infield seems set with Tucker Ashford, Bill Almon, Mike Champion and Mike Ivie, but Dark must see the proof there, too.

The half-way point has been reached and past, yet the Padres pose almost as many problems now as they did when they broke Spring Training, and that's without even considering the pitching staff.

With Randy Jones back (maybe) things might turn over for the mound corps. The work of Dave Friesleben, Bob Shirley, Tom Griffin, and Bob Owchinko has been superplus lately and Dan Spillner teams with Rollie Fingers as real stoppers.

Dark had to find his way. But now is the time for sure decisions.

At the age of 74, Ray Kroc doesn't like to be reminded the season is half over. Years pass fast enough as it is. He wants a winner he can enjoy. And 1979 sure seems like a long time away.

PUC Rate Hearings Sked For Early Next Month

LOS ANGELES — Utility customers who wish to testify before the California Public Utilities Commission on how any refunds due to them will be divided will have their chance August 3 and 4.

The Public Utilities Commission will accept testimony during meetings held in room 358 of the County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific highway. On August 3 the meeting will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. and on August 4 meeting times are 9:30 a.m. to noon.

PUC information officer Carole Kretzer said the amount of refunds could be in the hundreds of millions of dollars collectively from the customers of telephone, gas, and electric utilities under the Commission's jurisdiction.

The PUC has several suits before it the outcomes of which may result in the refunds to residential utility customers.

The reasons for the possible refunds stem largely from three issues:

—appropriate treatment of federal income tax expense,

—over collections by electric utilities under the fuel clause,

—and rate increases automatically granted by the Federal Power Commission.

Administrative Law Judge Wilson E. Cline will preside over the meetings.

The PUC regulates only privately owned utilities.

State President to Visit Local Rebekah Lodge

The president of the Rebekah Assembly of California will make an official visit to Mesa Jewel Rebekah Lodge no. 409, Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Lemon Grove on August 3.

Mrs. Morman Miller, president, will attend a meeting of the local group to be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, 2885 Imperial ave.

A dinner in honor of Miller will be held at the Chari-Mont Restaurant in the Walker Scott store in the College Grove Shopping Center. Dinner begins at 6 p.m.

Reservations for the dinner may be made with Mrs. Lucille Nordensin, 4561 Pomona ave., La Mesa 92041 or by calling her at 466-6684.

Demos Seek OK For Yard Signs

The San Diego County Democratic Central Committee will seek San Diego City Council approval for amendments to the city code to allow the use of political yard signs in residential areas.

Calling the use of political yard signs "a basic constitutional right of freedom of expression," County Democratic chairman Neil Good said the committee would seek amendments to the City zoning laws before the September 20 municipal primary.

Current city zoning codes do not allow the use of temporary political yard signs in residential areas, Good said, but do allow temporary real estate signs.

"The current city zoning laws regarding political yard signs is nearly impossible to enforce and leads to confusion among candidates and their supporters," he said. "Rather than violate an unconstitutional law candidates forego the use of these signs which would allow candidates and their supporters an economical and personal way to express their political preference."

Good said the Committee favors reasonable restrictions on the size and length of time such a yard sign could be allowed so that the character of neighborhoods would not be adversely changed.

"Obviously an entire review of the City's sign and zoning ordinances as they relate to political signs is in order," Good said.

New Roach Killer Said More Deadly

A new killing agent for cockroaches, water bugs and silver fish has been recently tested and approved by the U.S. government.

"Roach Prufe", an inorganic, odorless and non-staining powder based on ortho-boric acid, reportedly eliminates cockroach infestation within 7 to 10 days after application and retains its killing power for years.

Unlike conventional insecticides "Roach Prufe", developed by "Copper Brite's" inventor Alen Brite, does not penetrate surfaces or lose its potency.

The new product will be sold directly to consumers; retailers reportedly believe that it would be unprofitable to stock a one-shot roach killer.

CHP Puts Heat On Truck Speeds

If you've been plagued in the past by speeding and tailgating truck drivers, relax in the knowledge that the California Highway Patrol is reducing this menace this month.

There has been an increase in the number of truck speed citations and drivers are paying more attention to their speed indicators.

The stepped up effort stems in part from public complaints.

More than half of all the complaints reaching the desks the CHP brass are from citizens upset by truck drivers who exceed speed limits and who follow too closely.

Capt. C. M. Douglas, commander of the CHP's El Cajon area (2,300 square miles) said that CHP fixed-wing aircraft based in El Centro have been assigned truck enforcement responsibilities in addition to all ground patrol units.

Douglas said the Calif. Trucking Assn. fully supports the legal-limit program as do many individual trucking firms.

Those who believe the CHP allows truck drivers more tolerance are misinformed. One: drivers sit above the tops of cars and can spot a patrol car far ahead. Two: CB radio operators keep the air filled with "Smokey" info. Most truckers know the location of CHP units better than CHP supervisors, Three: CHP issued 43,000 speed citations to truck drivers last year. The ratio of citations was 91 for each 1,000 trucks; 67 a thousand for other vehicles.

An added aid to bringing trucks down to 55 mph is that CHP will assist citizens by accepting complaints of speeding or tailgating trucks. The CHP, said Capt. Douglas, will have courts subpoena company officials and records to identify drivers for subsequent prosecution.

Police Commended

Congratulations to the San Diego Police Department for heeding the law abiding citizens of Ocean Beach crys, for protection, against those antisocials who have defiled our city and beaches by a way of life and actions that has made these beautiful areas dangerous shambles, and a haven for undesirables who hate authority.

The deploying of police in high crime area is a step in the right direction, and operation "Crime Sweep" deserves the support of our city administrators, politicians, and all decent law abiding citizens, young and old who must stand to suppress crime in the interest of public safety.

It is time to demand of our courts, a true definition of human rights, rights which have been perverted in a haze of judicial decisions, which have made a mockery of our constitution resulting in undue concern for the criminal and placing him on a pedestal, over the inscription, "Crime Pays Today".

And to those ultra liberals, and leftist bleeding hearts who support criminals and crime, while crying harassment at the law enforcement attempts to bring to justice those murderers who traffic in narcotics, I'm proud to be on the side of those you so derisively insult as pigs, and narcs, proud to be a law abiding citizen.

TERRIFIC — Robert Austin, as Herr Schultz in the current offering of "Caberet" in Balboa Park's Starlight Bowl, gives sparkle to his performance as he sings "Married", "Meeskete" and Married Again." Reviewer says "he's terrific."

'Relax . . . and Enjoy "Cabaret"' Says Starlight Bowl Critic

"Cabaret" is a good musical which had some problems of professionalism in its opening week at Balboa Park's Starlight Bowl.

Those familiar with the story line know that "Cabaret" is a tremendously busy book. It was so busy during performances that the whole affair seemed disjointed. At times the performance didn't seem to make sense. The producer apparently attempted to get more into it than the performers could manage.

There were some high points. Kirby Ward as m.c. was outstanding. The singing of Robert Rustin could be classed "terrific." But the main characters, around whom the play revolved couldn't sing very well.

Some of the action didn't come across the footlights as part of the whole and a few of the performances called attention to the fact that they were people on a stage rather than believable personalities deeply involved in portraying a romance.

Starlight, as San Diegans have come to know over the past 31 years offers good entertainment. The chemistry that makes a good show exciting and entertaining wasn't there opening night but there is enough reason to believe that it will be by the time this gets into print. The music was too loud and some of the dances were a bit more risque than the storyline demanded — but you won't hear any virile male complain about this.

Those who attend "Cabaret" can find much to enjoy. Band bear in mind that a critic must find faults or lose his next assignment.

We suggest that you see "Cabaret" but take along your most relaxed attitude.

State Heads Seek Ways to Open the Schools to Seniors

SACRAMENTO — The Director of the California Department of Aging and State Superintendent of Public Instruction Wilson Riles have signed a treaty between each other pledging to use school facilities for senior citizens programs.

Department of Aging head Janet Levy and Riles signed the agreement spanning five major objectives.

The objectives of the plan listed were:

—to encourage the use of school facilities for senior citizens nutrition programs;

—to increase cooperation with community agencies and organizations to use school facilities as service sites for the elderly,

—to give greater opportunities for the elderly to participate in educational, recreational, cultural, and related activities in schools,

—to help young people understand the process of aging, the life cycle and the value of older persons in the society,

—and to promote the study of aging as a normal part of life by teaching intergenerational discussions.

Levy and Riles said they will be pushing projects on the local level and there was no discussion by the two of the costs involved.

LINE BURIAL — San Diego Gas and Electric employee Brian Wilbur of San Diego replaces pavement after checking for underground gas lines in the path of a SDG&E trenching crew.

Gas Company crews began last week finishing the burial of power lines along Imperial ave. in Lemon Grove.

Project Continues

SDG&E Buries Power Lines Along Imperial Ave.

Work started last week on a $550,000 project to replace overhead electric lines with an underground system along Imperial avenue in Lemon Grove.

San Diego Gas & Electric Company is burying 8,200 feet of 12 kilovolt powerline on Imperial ave. between Golden ave. and a point about one-quarter mile south of Beryl st.

The project, being done by SDG&E's eastern operating district personnel, is a continuation of an earlier overhead-to-underground conversion done on Imperial ave. and Main st., north of Broadway.

Work crews will trench along the eastern edge of Imperial ave. and install underground conduit. When this phase is completed, cables will be pulled through the conduit and connected.

Work is expected to be completed by next April.

After the new line is in operation, 34 poles and associated overhead equipment will be removed. Ten padmount transformers and four switch cabinets will be installed for the underground line.

Telephone and cable television facilities also will be placed underground. Company crews will provide electric lines up to the property line.

The property owners will be required to provide the trench on their property and modify their electric service equipment to receive the underground supply.

Workmen will begin trenching near Broadway and will work south along Imperial ave. Where necessary, steel plates will be placed over the trench to allow crossing for businesses and residences.

The work was authorized by the County of San Diego prior to the recent incorporation of Lemon Grove.

The County sets priorities for such projects in unincorporated areas.

The cost of undergrounding the main lines is paid by SDG&E as a part of its continuing conversion program.

On Jan. 1, 1978, the City of Lemon Grove will set its own priorities for future overhead-to-underground conversion projects.

Wild Animal Park Eagle Freed in Pendleton Home

A four-year-old golden eagle named Aquila has completed a year-long rehabilitation program at the San Diego Wild Animal Park. Last week she was introduced to her new home in the hilly, wild terrain of Camp Pendleton.

Aquila was released at the Marine Corps base by her trainer, Steve Martin, who is in charge of the Birds of Prey Show at the Wild Animal Park. The eagle's release followed months of training by Martin to reacquaint her with techniques of flying, soaring and searching for food.

Joining Martin at the release site, deep within the protected boundaries of the base and near known aeries of other golden eagles, were Robert Prather of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and George McCleary of the base's Natural Resources Office.

Aquila, who like other eagles in the U. S. is under the protection of the federal government, was confiscated in 1973 by the Fish and Wildlife Service from a Los Angeles resident who had taken her illegally from her nest. She was placed in the custody in April 1976 of a Hollywood company which trains birds for on-camera use and for their eventual return to the wild.

Between occasional appearances in bird shows, Aquila learned to soar on thermal air currents, to hunt for live game, and to eat the game which she caught herself.

Martin said, "The single biggest problem training Aquila was to teach her to be afraid of humans. Since she was taken from her nest at an early age, she became accustomed to being handled and to expect handouts of food.

"In order to return her to the wild state, I had to make sure she was completely independent of humans. Now that she can hunt for food and she has completed this year's molt (to shed feathers, usually once a year), she is ready to take off on her own."

Something for the Kids

There were 61.7 million children in the United States in 1976 and 28.2 million had mothers working outside the home, according to the Labor Department.

Mexican Festival Is 2-Day Affair

Tony Aguilar's National Mexican Festival and Rodeo opens a two-day engagement Saturday and Sunday at 8 o'clock in the San Diego Sports Arena, with a repeat performance at 3:30 p.m.

Heading the colorful company of skillful performers is Aguilar, his actress-wife, Flor Silvestre, and their sons, teenager Tonito and pre-teener Pepito. All four sing ballads of old and modern Mexico on handsome international thoroughbreds, including the famous white Lipizzans, and perform difficult equestrian feats.

Other acts are Roman-riding teams in helmets and tunics jumping their mounts through a huge circle of fire and staging a "Ben Hur" style chariot race.

There will be charros (Mexican cowboys) riding bucking broncos and Brahma bulls; trick-riding and rope tricks by the Lauro family of eight; regional dances in native costumes by Folklorico performers; the return of Escaramuza, the mounted drill team of 12 lovely senoritas, and the San Miguel Mariachi band.

EDD Waiting on Fed Construction Money

SACRAMENTO — The California Employment Development Department will be in charge of distributing some $56 million to 90 public works projects around the state to bolster up the construction industry.

The 90 projects are expected to employ about 13,500 carpenters, plumbers, electricians and other construction workers. The money will also provide jobs for another 40,000 in the various service occupations indirectly linked with construction.

The selected list of projects has been sent to the Federal Economic Development Administration for processing and the funds are expected to arrive "promptly".

This Week's Question:
What is the purpose of a bicycle lane? May I drive over it to turn

This Week's Answer:
Bicycle lanes are established by local authorities to provide a safe area of travel for bicycles which normally travel much slower than automobiles. Bicycles are prohibited from leaving the bicycle lane except to make a left turn, to avoid debris in the lane, or to pass a slower bicycle if not reasonably safe to pass within the lane.

A motor vehicle is prohibited from travelling in a bicycle lane except to enter or exit the roadway, to park if parking not prohibited, or to prepare for a turn. For example, say you were going to make a right turn. You must enter the bicycle lane (yielding to bicycle traffic) before making the actual turn and then make your turn from the bicycle lane.

Poisonous Weeds

Every year horses — no one is sure how many — die from eating poisonous weeds. The most common offenders are fiddleneck and common groundsel because they like to grow in hay fields and can unknowingly be fed to horses in baled hay or cubes.

The problem, particularly with groundsel, appears to be on the increase, says Charles Jualls, a University of California veterinarian studying the type of poisoning caused by these weeds.

To reduce the chances of feeding the poisonous weeds in hay, Qualls and UC Cooperative ertension agronomist Vern Marble suggest that owners of horses and other livestock:

—purchase hay and cubes from reputable dealers;

—open a bale of hay and inspect the hay for weeds prior to purchase;

—be wary of "bargain" hay prices that may indicate a poorer quality product.

"Animals eating poisonous weeds in any quantity or over extended periods have little chance for recovery," says Qualls. "The poison destroys liver cells — animals lose weight and become emaciated and jaundiced. Sometimes the signs are mistaken for a parasite problem, but worming does no good."

The amount of groundsel or fiddleneck it takes to cause death varies among individual animals and species.

Alfalfa hay containing approximately 60 per cent fiddleneck and groundsel has killed horses within six weeks, but some animals can sustain a diet containing the toxic weed for six months or more, according to Qualls.

Field investigation in two outbreaks indicate that hay containing 10 to 15 per cent of the weeds is dangerous.

Many Seniors Are Not Filing

Deadline Nears for Filing Rent Assistance Claims

Assemblyman Pete Chacon has reminded area senior citizens the deadline for filing Senior Citizen's Rent Assistance claims is August 31.

Chacon said only 35,000 of the estimated 200,000 have filed for the new tax break.

"The number of claims filed may be low because many senior citizens just aren't aware of the new program," Chacon said. "Some senior citizens who claim $37 renter's credit on their personal income tax return may believe this disqualifies them for rent assistance.

"This is not true," Chacon continued. "The receipt of the $37 renter's credit has no bearing on the senior citizen's eligibility for rent assistance."

Chacon said the time period for filing the claims is nearly half over.

"The last day to file a claim for rent assistance is August 31," the Assemblyman added. "Unless the number of filers drastically increases, many eligible persons may lose out on the refunds."

Individuals who are at least 62 years of age and have an income under $12,000 qualify.

The California Franchise Tax Board's San Diego office has details. The phone number is 236-7540.

Also, Chacon's office at 5106 Federal blvd., Suite 207 has instructions and forms. The office's phone number is 263-2148.

Firm's Loans Increase 80%

Home Federal Savings of San Diego, during the first six months of 1977, financed enough housing units to build a city of nearly 17,000 dwellings, according to Home Federal President Kim Fletcher.

Fletcher said the most spectacular gains this year at Home Federal came in the area of construction lending. Home Federal recorded an 80 per cent increase in new construction lending.

Home Federal construction lending volume topped $132 million for the first half of 1977 and as compared with $73.5 million in 1976 and financed 3,751 housing units. That's an 81 per cent increase over the 2,071 units financed through construction loans for the first six months of 1976.

"Strong savings inflows from our depositors enabled Home Federal to increase its construction lending in California for 1977," said Home Federal President Kim Fletcher. "Home Federal in the last six months has established new corporate records in loan volume and in savings volume."

Total lending volume — including real estate and consumer lending — for the association was an all time high $765.5 million, a 61 per cent increase over $474.7 million the total for the first half of 1976. In April Home Federal set a corporate real estate lending record of more than $110 million for a single month.

Total real estate lending volume for the six-month period was $562.9 million, financing a total of 16,867 housing units, up 50 per cent over the $374.9 million for the same period in 1976.

Consumer lending volume, including mobile home, home improvement and homeowners' equity loans, totaled $73.7 million of the first six months of 1977, a 45 per cent increase over the $50.8 million volume for the same period last year.

Home Federal is the seventh largest S&L in the nation, the third largest federally chartered. It has 54 offices stretching from the Mexican border to the Napa Valley wine country.
